Have nothing but praise for the CLOTHES OF FELIX. A comparison of styles, of fit, of nicety of making, of elegance of trimming, of Dollar Value is all in their favor.

MONEY IS COMING IN.

Subscriptions to Y. W. C. A. Nearing Twenty-five Thousand Mark.

As each day progresses contributions to the Y. W. C. A. building fund continue, until the subscriptions have now aggregated $23,305.59 which brings the amount up to noon today. During the past 24 hours $1,934 has been secured by the committee of campaigners in charge of the solicitation of funds.

A conference will be held tonight by the captains of the girls' teams at which time definite plans for the future work of the campaign will be discussed. It is expected at this meeting which will be held in the headquarters at the First Baptist church to inaugurate such ideas as will prove efficient in the campaign, and which are not now in use.

Much interest is given the campaign and a considerable amount of good is being accomplished. The contributions during the past 24 hours follow:

JOE TO GET A JOB

Chicago Police Moved by Story of Two Boys.

Overcoat of Blind Child Stolen on a Train.

BROTHERLY LOVE.

Exemplified in Care of Older Child for Companion.

All He Wanted Was Work and So Is Satisfied.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—If policemen who listened to the story of a blind boy today had had power over a tramp who stole the child's overcoat and all the money he and his brother had, the thief would spend the rest of his life inside a prison wall.

The officers were moved alternately to rage and sympathy by the story of Joseph Leonard, 16 years old, and his brother, Samuel, two years younger, and blind. The boys were picked up on the street today and cared for at the Harrison street police station. Joe picked the more choice morsels from the meal furnished by the police and fed them to Sam, and then, with his arm around the shoulders of the latter, told his story.

"We lived in New Orleans," he said. "Dad died seven years ago and our mother, working night and day to feed us and get medicine for little Sam, who was sickly, worse herself out and she was buried, too. It was up to me to take care of Sam. I sold papers and did odd jobs, but medicine did not help Sam much and four years ago he went blind. We managed to save a few dollars, but I got sick, too, and when I crawled out again I could not get a job again, and we concluded maybe chances would be better in Chicago.

"We had three dollars left when we started four days ago. I led Sam into the switch yards at New Orleans and we climbed into box car. At Memphis the other night a tramp came into our car and we were afraid, but Sam being blind, I couldn't figure on changing trains.

"It turned cold and I put my overcoat over Sam because he was shivering. It had two dollars in it, because I spent the other one at New Orleans for some sausage to eat on the way, and some medicine for Sam. I didn't go to sleep for a long time, because it was cold and I was afraid the tramp might kill us. I did not think about his stealing anything. Finally I fell asleep, though, and when I woke up the tramp was gone and so was the overcoat I had put over Sam, and the two dollars.

This simple recital over Joe declared that all he wanted was a job so he could secure an education for his brother.

"Sam's smart, and if I can get a job we'll get along fine, him getting educated and me getting steady pay," Joe concluded.

Work will be found for Joe.

BREAK IN COTTON.

Bulls Reported to Have Cleaned Up $13,000,000.

New York, Nov. 4.—Persistent rumors that the bull leaders were gradually selling out their cotton, accompanied by further heavy realizing sales, resulted in a severe break in the cotton market today. The weakness in Liverpool caused a lower opening and the market became excited because of the absence of any support from the bull leaders.

Selling became general stop orders were uncovered and January contracts broke to $14.63 or 43 points under the closing figures of last night, or 2.35 per bale below the high record of yesterday. It seemed the general impression that all four of the leading bull operators had largely, if not entirely, liquidated their lines, the combined profits of which were estimated a day or two ago at nearly $13,000,000.

APPEALS TO UNCLE SAM

Pearcy Crowd Goes "Gum Shoeing" Through the State Department.

Washington, Nov. 4.—"Let scientific America examine Dr. Cook's records," is in substance, the message which the state department was today asked to transmit to Copenhagen. "Gum shoeing" through the halls of the state department is the best way to describe the visit of the committee of the National Geographic society to Assistant Secretary of State Huntington Wilson, and one of the members of that delegation even denied his identity when a newspaper reporter talked to him.

The matter was taken under advisement pending a decision which hinges on the possible commitment of the department in favor of Percy as against Cook.

MURRELL GETS VERDICT.

Allowed $3,600 Against Milling Company for Death of Father.

Damages of $3,600 were awarded Jas. H. Murrell, administrator for John M. Murrell in the $10,000 damage suit against the Topeka Milling company. The jury of the district court was out three hours, returning with the verdict about noon.

John M. Murrell was an employee of the Santa Fe shops and living in North Topeka passed along Crane street to the milling company maintains a pipe line under the street to carry steam from the mill to heat the office across the way. A great hole had formed in the pipe so that steam and boiling water escaped into the street. Murrell stepped into that hole, it is claimed, one evening coming late from work. He was so severely burned that when taken to the Santa Fe hospital he died in the course of a few days.

The suit against the milling company was brought by his son James, asking the damages for the sake of two sisters, Ruth H. aged 16 years and Emma L. aged 13 years, both entirely dependent upon the earnings of their father and left destitute.

The law firm of Garver & Garver conducted the case for the plaintiff and that of Ferry, Doran & Magaw for the defense during the five days of its labors.

Aside from the general verdict asked of the jury, nearly 50 questions subdivided into almost 150 interrogatories were submitted by the court and the attorneys.

WHITNEY IS WANTED.

Tramp Driven From McFarland Wanted for Murdering Pal.

A few hours after a professional hobo known by the name of Whitney, was run out of McFarland, thirty miles from here, yesterday afternoon, word was received by the authorities that he was wanted by Sheriff William Geiger of Faribault, Minn., for murdering his pal.

Thinking that he might have drifted into Topeka after having been run out of McFarland, word has sent here by Sheriff Erickson and Special Officer Martini of the Rock Island railroad, to be on the look-out for him.

When seen at McFarland Whitney, whose other name is unknown, still had blood stains upon his apparel.

The Topeka police have also received descriptions of the man and are working on the case. A reward of $100 is offered for his apprehension.

Believing that the man had come to Topeka, Chief Eaton and Detective Hutton of the police force, spent a good part of last night scouring the districts where he would be most likely to be found.

BRADFORD MILLER LOW.

Stricken With Paralysis on Way Home Today.

Bradford Miller, ex-mayor of Topeka and a man well known over the county, is suffering at his home, 626 Clay, from a stroke of paralysis which he received about 8:30 this morning near his home.

Mr. Miller received a slight attack during the night but was feeling much better this morning. Later he went to the pension office in the federal building, Fifth and Kansas avenue, and on his way home he was taken suddenly with the second attack.

At a late hour this afternoon the physicians reported a rally and with it hopes for recovery. Dr. Henry Miller, a nephew of Mr. Miller, will arrive tonight from Philadelphia, where he is connected with a big hospital in that city.

This is the fifth stroke of paralysis suffered by Mr. Miller.
